

RwandAir Appoints Network Airline Services as Cargo GSA in UK

LONDON: June 28, 2017. Network Airline Services has been appointed cargo GSA for RwandAir in the United Kingdom.

Offering an Airbus A330 direct to Kigali (KGL) from London Gatwick (LGW) three times a week, Rwandair provides connections to 22 destinations throughout Africa.

John Gilfeather, UK GSA Sales Director comments, “The Network Airline Services team has more than 30 years of experience in the African market and RwandAir adds a special significance to our area of expertise which we are extremely excited about.

“We look forward to offering a fantastic service and building upon our existing long-term client relationships, providing cargo solutions to Africa.”

About RwandAir

From Kigali—its hub at the heart of Africa—RwandAir is well reputed for excellent on-time performance, is one of the safest airlines, and operates one of the youngest fleets on the African continent. With eleven aircraft, the airline currently reaches out to 22 destinations across Africa and the Middle East.

RwandAir marked 2016 with some significant achievements: The airline began operations to Cotonou and Abidjan and acquired its first two wide-body brand new Airbus A330s (East Africa’s first triple class configuration) as well as its third Boeing 737-800NG. All aircraft are equipped with inflight connectivity. The airline also renewed its IOSA certification and has been ISAGO and EASA certified.

In 2017, the airline plans to acquire its fourth Boeing 737-800NG and to expand its wings to Guangzhou in China, Bamako in Mali, Conakry in Guinea, Lilongwe in Malawi, and New York in the USA. RwandAir is an IATA member airline.
