

PRESS RELEASE

ISTANBUL: August 16, 2017. Turkish Cargo has received Accreditation of Qualified Environmental Suppliers (QEP) from temperature controlled container provider Envirotainer, for five stations that the company served in addition to its Istanbul Ataturk Airport hub.

With this accreditation, Turkish Cargo now has the credibility of managing Envirotainer containers and cold chain shipments at Frankfurt (FRA), Tel Aviv (TLV), Seoul (ICN), Bombay (BOM) and Hyderabad (HYD) stations together with its Istanbul hub.

Turkish Cargo, which will deliver medical products that require cold chain transportation to the world's largest pharmaceutical companies in six accredited stations, will also be able to increase its current business potential. Turkish Cargo demonstrated its credibility in handling Envirotainer containers and cold chain shipments with this accreditation.

“Envirotainer’s QEP Accreditation has been a proof of our reliability within the temperature-controlled freight industry, and a result of our continuous hard work and dedication to our customers. We are proud to receive this recognition and are determined to keep performing at an industry leading standard,” said Şeref Kazancı, Turkish Airlines’ SVP Cargo.

“Turkish Cargo Pharmaceutical is a premium, quality-driven service on which the healthcare industry steadily relies for transporting the healthcare products. I am especially pleased to recognize Turkish Cargo as a Qualified Envirotainer Provider,” said Chris Fore, Compliance Manager of Envirotainer.

Bourji Mourad, Global Head of Partner Management of Envirotainer, said: “This accreditation is another positive step forward with our Partner Turkish Cargo. Our mutual pharma customers and forwarders around the globe can benefit from such development since everyone in the supply chain needs to mitigating risks when handling such vital products.”

Turkish Cargo continues to improve its services to more than 300 destinations through its ever-expanding international transport network by stably carrying out various innovations/ enhancements, such as this service that specially designed for the shippings includes pharmaceutical and medical stuff. Turkish Cargo, handling Envirotainer containers since 2015, keeps bringing together its service quality with the world's largest pharmaceuticals companies.
